Urban WASH - Viable Options to Minimize Corruption

ROCKBlue is hosting its free Online Lecture Series (OLS) #14 webinar on the topic of Urban WASH - Viable Options to Minimize Corruption, on October 14th. Providing leadership in urban water, sanitation, and hygiene (WASH), this non-profit informs and empowers water service providers (WSPs) from 6 countries, who serve over 22 million people.

ROCKBlue is helping to create a world where everyone has access to clean water and basic sanitation by assisting urban WSPs in developing countries. This assistance ultimately supports income, education, and health for vibrant communities, and helps create a more sustainable environment.

On October 14th, the OLS webinar titled Urban WASH - Viable Options to Minimize Corruption will feature a panel of WASH project experts who will provide advice to minimize corruption practices. Panelists include Robert Gakubia from Blackburn Associates, Ltd., Daniela Patiño Piñeros of Water Integrity Network, and Development Specialist, Ato Brown. Providing knowledge from experts, ROCKBlue's Online Lecture Series (OLS) gives WASH professionals access to hands-on experiences at no cost.

If you would like more information on ROCKBlue's Online Lecture Series (OLS), visit ROCKBlue.

In response to the need for water and sanitation services in developing countries, ROCKBlue, a Non-Profit organization, strengthens the capabilities of WSPs, and looks to keep up with the growing urban demand of those services. ROCKBlue, based in the USA and South Africa, believes empowered utilities create healthy cities and improve lives.
